

A Dream Come True for Kai

After a year of trying to obtain sufficient funds to support a family in purchasing a specialist bike for their son the time has finally arrived. Halton Play Council in partnership with Moving up Care has finally been able to see a young man's dream of having his own bike come true.

Kai Whittley Unsworth received his Red Tracer bike built by Theraplay this month and was presented it by Simon Oliver (Development Manager Moving up Care) and Halton Play Council's Chairman Ken Tonge. The family engaged with Halton Play Council's Play, Learn & Loan service originally to hire one of their trike's to start Kai off on learning to ride a bike but after loaning a trike for a period of time out grew all of them, so Joyce Reilly (Toy Library Lead) and Claire Lomax's help they were put in contact with Theraplay who have overseen the building of Kai's new bike around Kai's needs.

From left to right: Claire Lomax, Simon Oliver, and Ken Tonge. On Bike Kai Whittley

From left to right: Simon Oliver, Kai Whittley Unsworth & Jacci Unsworth (Kai's mum)